

James Dickson

Carl has been trying to save all the effort he can, as a result of his lazy nature. However, this has led to him eating the same thing from the same places over and over again, leading to him becoming depressed by the monotony of it all.

In addition, this way of eating has turned out to be extremely unhealthy, and Carl has gained quite a bit of unwanted weight, furthering his depression

One day, while browsing the internet, he saw an ad for Food Finder, which promised at least to help him eat different foods that were still convenient and cheap

Carl gives it a try, and finds many interesting restaurants that were near him the whole time, he just never knew about them. It even helps him branch out his taste in food.

As well as this, he finds that the app has a way to help him diet and can plan routes and meals that are healthier for him, which causes him to lose weight.

Now, with Food Finder, Carl can live a more interesting and healthier life.

Harold is a retired great grandfather who is going back to college to set an example to his family. However, because of his age and health, he needs to focus on maintaining a good diet, which is hard on campus.

Kathleen Raye Humphries from team Next Generation

His son decides to show him the food finder app, which will help him find food near campus that is healthy, cheap, and close to him.

Kathleen Raye Humphries from team Next Generation

After specifying his needs and location, the application starts recommending food that is close, tasty, and healthy.

Kathleen Raye Humphries from team Next Generation

Fascinated, Harold starts to use the food finder app every morning to plan his meals around his classes, so that he can get a variety of tasty healthy food.

Kathleen Raye Humphries from team Next Generation

Because of his diet, Harold feels alive and well and is excelling in all his classes. On the weekends, he has enough energy to both study and spend time with his family.

Kathleen Raye Humphries from team Next Generation

Because of his diet, Harold is able to graduate college and become an example to his family. He is so proud of himself.

Story Board by Claude G. Reid III

Jack Hinderson Is walking home from his professors job in Economics. He is very tired, lonely, and very hungry. He needs something to eat but does not know where to look.

On his way home John sees a commercial on a random tv screen inside a building about the “Food Finder App.” The food app that lets you save time and money by getting the healthiest to go at the closest location to you.

Excited John immediately downloads and opens the application.

Upon opening the application john gets recommended the closest and healthiest restaurants. John, already excited from finding something he was looking for, chooses the first restaurant near by him, walks in and is greeted by the restaurant employee.

John receives his order with a smile on his face, knowing that he will be satisfied once he gets home to enjoy his efficient and healthy meal.

CSCE 190 Storyboard

Nora Nightshift, by Ross Vicario

Nora has been purchasing lots of fast food to feed her children and isn't happy with it.

Nora doesn't have the time to research better alternatives.

Nora hears about the Food Finder app on social media, and decides to give it a try.

Nora uses the app to find some healthy, cheap, and low-effort food options.

Nora is encouraged to keep on the self-improvement track by positive reinforcement from the app.

Nora is happier with her healthier food options.